Cattle Steady With But Few Offerings.

The hog market yesterday was steady, with liberal offerings for Monday and the general quality good. Other market ruled steady to weak, but the local market sustained its steady tone all through the trade, which lasted until long after dark, with three cars of goeds hogs still unsold. The last six cars to come in did not in any manner break or weaken the market, one of the latter bunch taking the top price for the day. It was a brisk, ac-tive market, two cars being driven direct to the scales from the cars, and hie bid-ding at all times being prompt and firm. The general run was in quality considerahis superior to any day last week, some few being very good, and two at least being choice. The top price was the same he for Saturday, the nonas for Saturday, the nonthe two days being about equal. The

Two otter car lots brought $1.71\frac{1}{2}$ and were also very fair hogs, one of them being about with the tops in weight and one about $40 pounds lighter. The bulk of the higher-priced hogs ranged in weight from about $25 pounds up, though one lot of 184 average brought $1.70. The medium and light grades sold along $1.45 to 2.05. The prices throughout the list ran even, and the market crossed steady with everything sold which it was light enough. rything sold which it was light enough to inspect. The better quality assisted the one of Saturday at the same price in maintaining a steady tone, the best of This is one of the large and successful in maintaining a steady tone, the best of the tracelpts going very readily, and the mixed and uneven lots also moving easily at slightly lower figures. More good hogs have been coming in the past few days, the built perhaps running about the same, but an increase of cars of finished and good stock. All the buyers participated in the business yesterday, the local and shipping demand being strong There were no slipments out, but Woods was a free buyer for a large shipment this evening. In referring to the grades of hogs most issued not to consign to this market any aging 200 pounds and without a dock or light stock hogs, running from 100 to 140 a cut-out.
